My dear Sir

I fear that either yourself or some member of your family must be unwell, for I wrote to you on the 12th of last month, and hitherto have received no answer. You have always been so punctual that your silence naturally alarms me.

I have lately become acquainted with Mr Lowell, the United States Minister to the Court of Spain. He spoke very highly of your Memoir of Shelley, and said he should be happy to make your personal acquaintance.

I have also had the pleasure of being introduced to a friend of Mr Lowell's a most agreeable man from Philadelphia He evinced such great interest for me and mine, that I spoke to him of your Kindness to me, and also of the Memorial. He is a friend of Tennyson, and says he intends writing to him, informing him of our interview, and his earnest request that he will favor the Memorial. This gentleman's name is Field, perhaps you may know him, for he has been much in England, and is acquainted with many literary men.

Hoping soon to hear that my fears for your health are unfounded, believe me to remain

Dear Sir

Yours very sincerely

J Keats de Llanos

Mr Llanos and family desire to be kindly remembered to you
